DEFIES HANDICAP—Lloydean Gay Anderson of Novato, her right side completely paralyzed by polio, types letters to an overseas friend as her mother watches. Lloydean, who writes two letters a day in voluminous correspondence, will be graduated from the Hill School eighth grade next week, although she has never been in the schoolroom. (Independent-Journal photo)

Novato School To Graduate Girl Who's Never Been Inside Its Doors

Listed among the 180 names of eighth grade students due to be graduated from Novato's Hill School next week is that of a 13-year-old girl who has never attended classes there.

She is Lloydean Gay Anderson, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Lloyd G. Anderson of 8 Yukon place. She has been in a plaster cast from her chin to her hips for the past 14 months, following the latest of many operations she has undergone since contracting paralytic poliomyelitis when 5 years old.

With only the use of her left side, Lloydean has managed to keep up with her schoolwork through the help of a home teacher from the Novato Unified School District. Last year, she was an honor student at Hill.

Lloyd's shining hope is that next September, outfitted with a new light-weight plastic cast, she will be able to enter Novato High School — on her feet.

At the June 19 graduation ball at Hill School, some of the Japanese decorations will be those made by Lloydean.

The Anderson family moved to Novato two years ago. Lloydean entered seventh grade at Marion School. Before the term was up, she was sent to Children's Hospital in San Francisco for an operation to fuse a portion of her spinal column which had begun to give way.

The surgeon who performed the operation was Dr. Frank Raney of Mill Valley, who by chance, had been the Navy doctor who had operated on Lloydean in Guam in 1953 while Captain Anderson was stationed there with the Air Force.

Lloyd spends nearly all of her hours in bed. Occasionally she will take an outing with her parents and her 12-year-old brother, Kurt — like

Floyd, Swede Sign For Fight

NEW YORK (UPI)—Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson jubilantly signed official contracts today shortly after a federal judge removed the last barrier to their heavyweight title fight at Yankee Stadium June 25.

Johansson of Sweden, wearing a blue sports jacket and striped basque shirt, put his name on a commission contract at headquarters of the New York State Athletic Commission while cameramen recorded the event.

Johansson handed the pen to Champion Patterson, wearing a dark gray suit and dark blue sport shirt. Young Floyd affixed his signature.

The signing ceremony was postponed 4½ hours to await a ruling by Federal Judge Irving Kaufman, who turned down an injunction application by Heavyweight Eddie Machen. (Earlier story on page 10.)

Judge Won't Be Named Till July

I.J. Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Edmund G. Brown will not appoint the new municipal court judge of Marin "until after the Legislature is over and I have a little vacation," he said today.

In his morning press conference the governor said he "had not had the time" to consider appointments during the closing days of the session. He said it would be July or later before he would fill the new third municipal court judgeship.

Immediate Pardon To Be Sought For San Quentin Inmate

The San Francisco district attorney will take immediate steps to obtain a pardon for John Henry Fry, 52, who is serving a one-to-10-year term in San Quentin for the slaying of his common-law wife.

The San Francisco Grand Jury last night indicted Richard T. Cooper for murder in the slaying last August of Elvira Hay—the killing for which Fry is imprisoned. The grand jury also indicted Cooper for

County School Board Adopts Courses Guide

A three-volume, 550-page study guide for all courses in Marin County elementary schools was adopted unanimously last night by the County Board of Education.

The action came over objections of County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis, who recommended a two-week delay while he prepared 500 copies on a duplicating machine.

COPIES URGED

Hollis objected that only one copy of the study guide had been made and said 500 additional copies should be prepared so copies could be distributed to board members, district superintendents, trustees, teachers, the newspapers and interested lay groups for their review.

It would take a week to multiply the copies, he said, leaving another week before the board's next meeting, June 23, "to make suggested changes." Everyone needs "to know what goes into this book and we can't do it with just one copy," Hollis insisted.

SRO AUDIENCE

At least two members of the standing-room-only audience in the board's meeting room agreed with Hollis. Mrs. Janice Magee of Marinwood insisted "we people should be able to see it." Mrs. Rose Eiserich of San Anselmo, who said she studied the guides, objected to them as the "wrong approach" and wondered "if the board members are as informed as I am" about them.

Her charges brought detailed answers from board members Alice Ann Rust and Adele Alpers. Both related continuing study over several years of the early drafts of the various sections. "And I've read every word in all three volumes," Mrs. Rust declared.

9 PRESENTATIONS

Richard L. Foster, who has resigned as assistant superintendent and was attending his last meeting of the board, pointed out that nine official presentations had been made to the board. Members were kept informed of every step.

Court Backs Passport Ban

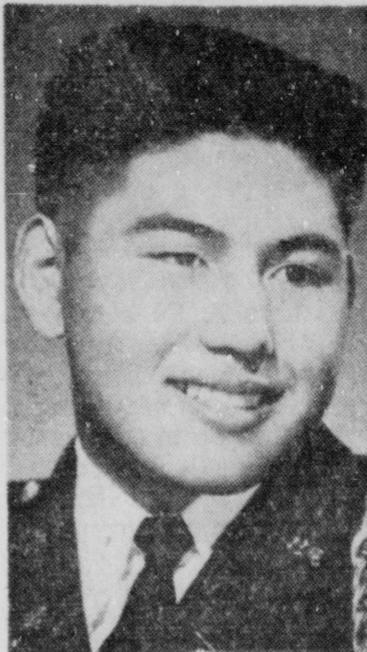

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Court of Appeals today upheld the right of the State Department to deny passports to Americans to travel to Red China and other areas it regards as potential trouble spots.

The ruling was handed down in the case of newsman William Worthy Jr.

Worthy visited Red China in 1956 and Hungary in 1957, and was denied renewal of his passport when he refused to agree to abide by restrictions against traveling to those countries again.

He brought suit for the passport.

The court's unanimous decision—written by Chief Judge E. Barrett Prettyman, said the secretary of state has the authority to set aside Communist-controlled areas in which Americans are forbidden to travel.

Big 3 Hand Ultimatum To Gromyko

GENEVA (UPI)—The Western Big Three handed Russia's Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko an ultimatum today that unless he stops stalling on Berlin the present Big Four talks will be broken off without any hope of a summit conference.

High western sources said the West was in agreement that there was no point in carrying the 30-day-old Foreign Ministers' Conference any further unless Russia abandons its determination to undercut Western rights in Berlin.

Secretary of State Christian Herter and his French and British partners went into a secret session with Gromyko determined to have a quick show-down.

Just before this session, Herter, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd sidetracked the East-West issue long enough to attack a dispute which arose among the Big 3 allies.

Howard Wiar, 23 and his 3-year-old son, Bobby, were rescued from the swift ebb tide of the Golden Gate yesterday by a plucky sailor and a Coast Guard lifeboat.

Mineman First Class Kenneth Harder, 25, was working in a Navy building near Fort Point when he heard the elder Wiar's cries for help. Father and son were being pulled seaward by a two-knot tidal current.

The sailor stripped, grabbed three life preservers, and struck out through the wind-swept waters after the boy and his father.

Harder's fellow workers called the Fort Point Coast Guard Station for aid, and a 36-foot motor life boat went to the rescue. Lt. O. K. Beall at the Coast Guard District office said the rescue report showed the boat left the station at 1:36 p.m. and picked up the two men and the boy six minutes later near the south tower of the Golden Gate Bridge.

"It was an incredibly fast pickup," said Beall.

The Wiar boy was fishing with his father, a garage attendant, from a dock near Fort Point under the bridge when he tripped on some pilings and fell in. His father saw him fall and dived in immediately after him. The tides and wind, however, proved too much, and they had drifted some 200 yards out when Harder heard their cries for help.

Young Bobby swallowed some water and the two men were chilled, but in good shape. Harder put on dry clothes and returned to work at the Naval Harbor Defense unit at Ft. Miley.

4 Dogs Poisoned In Inverness Area

Four dogs have been poisoned in the Inverness area during the past week, the owner of the victim of the latest poisoning case reported to the sheriff yesterday.

John T. Huffman of Aberdeen way, Inverness, said his golden cocker spaniel became ill yesterday morning. He took it to a veterinarian, who found evidence of strichnine poison. The doctor said this was the fourth dog in a week to be stricken, and one of them died, Huffman reported.

Grand Jury Indicts Kayo; Lie Tests May Be Given As Stories Conflict

Marin County Grand Jury last night indicted Terence (Kayo) Hallinan, 22, for beating an 18-year-old Drake High School youth last May 29.

Kayo, second son of attorney Vincent Hallinan of Ross, is scheduled to be arraigned in Marin Superior Court Monday morning.

Brigham will report on the heating system. The system is so constructed that it gives off too much heat in the juvenile cells and must be turned off, but when that is done, heat is shut off to other sections also.

The letter was presented to the board by George W. Thierbach of Corte Madera, secretary of the Marin County Grand Jury. Copies of official explanations will be sent to the jury.

The grand jury last night

did not have enough time to hear evidence on alleged assaults other than the one in which Kayo was accused.

Kayo is charged with breaking the jaw of James W. Thalhamer Jr. of 26 Maple avenue, Fairfax, at the Greenbrae Lane bowling alley parking lot.

Brigham's testimony will be given as stories conflict.

Other assaults have been retold. He said two teeth were split and others loosened.

But Kayo's friends gave this version: They said they were just about to enter the bowling alley on May 22 and May 29, and during a fiesta at Marin Catholic High School on May 23. Witnesses in these incidents will be called by the grand jury at a later date.

Seven witnesses testified in the Thalhamer beating case.

Kayo himself was advised by his attorney not to appear.

Kayo's brother, Mathew (Dynamite) Hallinan, 18, took the Fifth Amendment and refused to testify on advice of his lawyer.

Thalhamer and two companions said Hallinan's group said something like "Hey you!"

Then, without another word, Kayo hit him, Thalhamer tested his fist, Kayo hit him.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Roger P. Ganey, who presented the case to the grand jury last night, said lie tests may be necessary because of the discrepancy in the accounts given by the two groups.

the time they went to a lake in Plymouth County for a weekend, recalls her mother. "They had real nice bass there," said Mrs. Anderson.

"Oh boy!" was Lloyd's added exclamation. "And blue gills!"

For a girl who has spent the majority of her days fighting polio in hospitals and at home, with operations, physical therapy, braces and plaster casts, there must be diversion and an escape from boredom.

Lloyd has found it in her studies. "She has always managed to keep up with her work — through it all," her mother boasts. "She's been a good student."

Her Siamese cat, Honeycomb, is her constant companion.

But lately, her greatest interest outside her studies is her correspondence to overseas friends. Since an article of her confinement appeared last month in the European issue of Stars and Stripes, Lloyd has received more than 50 letters from servicemen and children in Italy, Germany, Norway, England and France.

"I'm learning French now so I can answer letters from French girls in their own language," she said. "I write two letters a day."

Lloyd does her writing with one finger of her left hand on a portable typewriter on the floor beside her bed. By lying prone on her bed, she can reach out and peck away to her heart's content.

"Once I thought I would like to be a doctor," said Lloyd. "But I've given that idea up. I think I'd rather be a veterinarian now. I love animals."

Compulsory Blood Test Proposal Voted Down

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Legislation requiring a motorist suspected of drunk driving to submit to a blood test or lose his driver's license has been killed by the Assembly Crime Committee.

The committee sent the bill, by Assemblyman Walter L. Dahl (R-Oakland), to an interim committee yesterday for two years of study.

Blood tests are used to determine if a person is drunk or sober.

HEADS CHURCH — Mrs. Kathryn F. Cook of Boston has been named president of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. A native of South Bend, Indiana, she has devoted her entire time to the practice of Christian Science healing for many years. Her husband was George Shaw Cook, who served as president of The Mother Church 20 years ago. Mrs. Cook's appointment was announced by the church board of directors at the annual church meeting yesterday.

No Decision Made On Sewage Plant

Directors of Corte Madera Sanitary District last night explored possible ways of reopening contract negotiations for expansion of the Greenbrae sewage treatment plant of Ross Valley Sanitary District.

No decision was reached, but directors indicated they might be willing to have a three-man arbitration team try to iron out major differences between the two district boards.

Director Ben K. Rippe said

Corte Madera's contract with Ross Valley provides for appointment of a team composed of one member of each board and a disinterested third party. The latter would be named jointly by the two boards.

Illness prevented Harold A. Snyder, president of the Corte Madera board, from attending last night's special meeting.

Rippe said the question of reopening negotiations will be discussed again when all five members are present. The board's next regular meeting will be held July 7 at 7:30 p.m.

It was decided to ask member clubs to make their individual opinions known to the board of supervisors on the question of using public funds to subsidize private organizations. Federation members feel, said Smart, that a dangerous trend is develop-

Brown Surrenders On Oil Tax Fight

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown surrendered today in his drive to place a 2 per cent tax on oil and natural gas imported into or produced in California.

"I'm afraid I have to accept the judgment of the legislators who have been fighting for it so hard when they tell me it is dead for this session," Brown told his news conference.

The Assembly last Saturday refused to withdraw the tax bill from the Revenue and Taxation Committee in which it was stalled.

SCHOOLS

Because of Hollis' insistence that his staff have "something we can show to interested citizens who come into the county office," the board, in authorizing immediate printing of the guides, instructed that consideration be given to obtaining galley proofs of the books so they could be studied by interested persons "for information only."

Foster also agreed to have the one copy duplicated photographically so that if "something happened to the original" the board would not find itself without a copy.

MANY CONTRIBUTED

The assistant superintendent, who has taken a major part in preparing the curriculum guides, made the official presentation. He said he was speaking for "some 200 or 250 people" who had worked in preparation of the guides starting in 1952. He noted that the study guides in use were prepared in 1943 and reprinted in 1949.

The new guides go much further in pointing a way to good classroom instruction and show more examples and methods of teaching, Foster said.

"It is a broader curriculum guide of what to teach, when to teach it, and how," he declared.

First preliminary guides were sent out to a small number of classroom teachers for trial. These were returned to the Curriculum Steering Committee, headed by teacher Gladys Black, and were re-visited.

SENT TO TEACHERS

Then they were sent out again as tentative guides, to a large number of teachers for lengthy trial in the classroom. And again they were returned to the committee with recommendations.

Revised again, they were pulled together into one book and "then we had a major job to look at the over-all result," Foster said. "We had to look again to see if certain sections needed bolstering up or cutting by removal of some examples."

In answer to a question, he said the reading section had been "extended in its final form." He said the attempt was made to balance the guides so that the social studies would be able to use the skills taught in reading and arithmetic.

ARITHMETIC CHANGE

An important change has been made in the arithmetic guide, Foster said. Previously the concept had been teaching at grade levels. "I think there was a mistake made."

"Our new guides open up so a third grade youngster who can do sixth or seventh grade arithmetic can go on and do it," he declared. "If we can implement this concept in the classroom, it will be a major breakthrough."

"Bunching" arithmetic students at the grade level has put California pupils at a disadvantage when compared with other states, Foster said.

In answer to a number of questions from the floor, these answers were given:

It is mandatory for all elementary school districts in the county, except San Rafael and Novato schools, to use the guides. San Rafael and Novato may accept them or set up their own courses of study.

The guides will be printed in looseleaf form and ready by September when they can be used in pre-school workshops for teachers. They can be reviewed at any time.

Copies of the final guides will be available for every school board member, administrator, teacher and citizen group that wishes to study them.

The guides set up no time schedule in the school day, "this is a local responsibility." But state law says 50 per cent of the time must be spent on "the basic skills," language arts, social studies, mathematics and science. Most school districts spend 70 to 75 per cent of the time on the basics, Foster said, "but you can get a program too sterile by teaching a skill and not its use."

The county board requested the Curriculum Steering Committee to recommend a program for a continuing study and re-evaluation of the guides.

McCarthy To Ask Fairground Funds

IJ Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A request will be made Thursday to the State Public Works Board to free $98,000 from the state Fairs and Exposition Fund to pay the cost of filling the low areas in the Marin County Fairground at Santa Venetia.

Sen. John F. McCarthy said he hoped to appear with members of the Marin Board of Supervisors before the Public Works Board to make the request.

Herrick and Mrs. Hammond were taken to Sonoma Valley Hospital by ambulance, both with major injuries.

Directors expressed confidence, however, that the increase would not result in any tax rise. The present tax rate is 86 cents per $100 of assessed property, including bond retirement.

Vendor Pleads Innocent

San Francisco vegetable vendor John Garvin Hicks, 62, pleaded innocent yesterday to charges that he molested 10-year-old girls in Marinwood last month.

He faces a preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court at 9:30 a.m. on June 24.

Drake Junior Chosen For Girls State

Carol Franchini, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Franchini, of 2 Agatha court, San Anselmo, will attend the 16th annual California Girls' State June 19 through 27 at the Davis campus of the University of California.

Miss Franchini, a junior at Drake High School, and president of the Girls' League, is being sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary No. 179 of San Anselmo.

The purpose of the Davis session is to make it possible for outstanding girls to take part in democracy in action and to awaken interest in community life.

Miss Franchini also is a member of the Pep Club, the Representative Assembly, is treasurer of the Tri Hi Y, and is a Gamma Sigma Kappa.

Board Delays Abandoning Ranch Roads

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today delayed proposed abandonment of several roads in West Marin as residents protested that it would work a hardship on them.

Attorney Julius Selinger, speaking for David Burbank of Tomales, said abandonment of Burbank lane would landlock the Burbank property. He said the lane was deeded to the county for $1 in the 1870s but only for road purposes.

Abandonment, the attorney said, might cause the lane to "revert" to the adjoining property, not Burbank's. The supervisors asked County Counsel Leland H. Jordan to offer an opinion.

MAY BE ABANDONED

Other roads under consideration for abandonment were: a portion of Millertown to Marshall, a portion of Franklin School road, and a portion of Tomales-Dillon's Beach road.

Proposed abandonment of the Franklin road drew several protests from ranchers who said that would mean the end of the bridge over Estero de Antonio.

Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham said the county would not tear down the bridge, but would not maintain it because a new bridge would be needed. He said a new one would cost about $80,000 if constructed of concrete, or about $10,000 of wood.

SOON OBSOLETE

While the road and the bridge would still be in existence, abandonment would in effect mean that in years to come the road might become useless because it would not be maintained.

Board members said they would go to the area and inspect the roads and the bridge before making a decision.

4 Whites Go On Trial For Attacking Negro Girl

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Four young white men are to go on trial for their lives here tomorrow. They are charged in the rape of a Negro college girl.

A veteran judge, W. May Walker, a native of this north Florida area, will preside in Circuit Court.

The court has summoned 156 prospective jurors—all men. A few are Negroes.

In the county jail, awaiting trial, are Willton Collinsworth, 23, a telephone lineman; Patrick G. Scarborough, 20, an Air Force enlisted man; David Beagles, 18, a high school senior; and Ollie Stoutamire, 16.

Only Collinsworth has been able to hire a lawyer. The others have court-appointed lawyers.

His attorney, S. Gunter Toney, has been preparing to enter a plea that Collinsworth was insane at the time of the alleged rape. A private psychiatrist who examined Collinsworth described him as a moron with the mind of a 9-year-old.

The four are charged with taking the Florida A&M University coed from her escort at gunpoint May 2 and raping her. Florida law prohibits publication of rape victim's names.

Rape is a capital crime in Florida. No white man ever has been electrocuted in this state for raping a Negro. A convicting jury can recommend mercy.

Six In One Family Killed In Smashup

DUNCANSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Six members of a family were killed and another was injured last night when their car and two trucks collided on Route 22 near this western Pennsylvania community.

The dead were Wilmer E. Hinsh, 34, of Williamsburg, Pa.; his wife, Dorothy, 34; a daughter, Sonja Joan, 12; and three sons: Robert Zane, 9; Randall Clark, 6; and William Dale, 10 months.

The only surviving member of the family, Roderick Kent, 4, was reported in satisfactory condition at a hospital.

Deputy Coroner William Crawford said pickup truck rammed the Hinsh car from behind and shoved it into the path of a truck loaded with bags of cement.

Sanger Educator To Be Principal Of Sausalito School

Monroe Haas, 30, for the past three years principal of the Taft-Jackson School in Sanger, last night was hired by Sausalito School District trustees as a principal at $7,900 a year.

Ford's contract as principal is not to be renewed, trustees decided, but he is expected to continue as a teacher.

Trustees are still considering an appointment for the second vacancy.

Trustees approved a four-year contract for Davis as superintendent at $11,500 per year. He had been serving in the post since February of 1958 when he took over from Clifton Boyle, who resigned. His salary last year was $10,500.

Trustees also:

Accepted with thanks the offer of Rob Rose to supply at no cost to the district an underground coaxial TV cable to Cen-

KQED educational programs.

Executed a contract with architect Vincent G. Raney to design the proposed Marin City School and set next Monday as a date to discuss plans with him.

Agreed to the appointment of seven teachers and director Robert D. Thomson for the July summer school.

To Leave For Britain

Ian Schiller, Tamalpais High School senior and son of Mr. and Mrs. Han J. Schiller of 22 Madrone Park Circle, Homestead Valley, has been informed that he will leave New York July 2 on the "Ascania" bound for Great Britain.

Schiller had been previously announced as one of the winners of the experiment in international living program which sends student abroad for the summer to live in homes in other countries.

FELLOW EMPLOYEES DON'T FORGET GENE MAZET

Eugene Mazet, longtime Lucas Valley Dairy route man, died unexpectedly last Oct. 22. His fellow employees at the dairy felt something special should be done for his widow. They decided on a special clean-up, paint-up project for the Mazet home at 1924 Fifth avenue, knowing that the widow, Mrs. Mary Mazet, would have no one to take over her husband's home maintenance chores. Sunday, 13 of the dairy employees gave the house a complete exterior paint job to finish the project, which earlier included graveling the driveway, fertilizing the garden and doing a variety of clean-up jobs around the yard. Here, Mrs. Mazet watches in pleasure as the dairymen slap on the paint.

Prisoner Paid Visit To Fairfax Home

A San Quentin convict, who walked away from the prison dairy farm on May 17, broke into a Fairfax weekend home and changed his clothes there, Fairfax Police Chief Andy J. Peri disclosed last night.

Dr. Paul J. Moses of San Francisco reported to police on Sunday that someone had climbed in a window of his place at 35 Crest road in Fairfax and taken some summer shirts, a light brown suede jacket and presumably some sport pants.

The assumption about the pants was based on the fact that the doctor found blue jeans plus a denim shirt and jacket in his Fairfax house. A check with San Quentin prison yesterday disclosed the number on the blue denim outfit was that of Robert L. Earhart, 34-year-old Los Angeles parole violator, who escaped May 17. Earhart is still at large.

PG&E Begins Job Of Razing Plant; Tanks Come Down

There was a change in the skyline between Second and Third, and Brooks and Lindaro streets in San Rafael today. The familiar gas holders, or tanks, of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co.'s plant were way down within their framework guides.

Last midnight, the gas was removed as the first step toward razing the four-story plant which is outmoded by recent construction of natural gas transmission and storage facilities in Marin County.

No specific target date for the complete removal has been set, according to George M. Henderson, manager of PG&E's Marin district. Among things to be done, said Henderson, is to tie the low and high pressure systems together. Regulator pits are now being installed to supply the low pressure system in the heart of San Rafael from the high pressure supply.

There is more to the job than the physical moving of the structure, said Henderson. Much that will be done will not be evident to the public visually for some time. It is expected the project will be completed within the year.

New use for the land where the plant stands has not been determined. Henderson said a proposal had been made to consolidate the offices in San Rafael.

Beefed-Up Budget Voted For San Jose Schools

A proposed 1959-60 budget of $689,238 was given tentative approval last night by trustees of the San Jose School District. The figure is $239,000 greater than the current year's estimated final expenditures.

The increase is due mainly to the contemplated hiring of 19 additional teachers and two new principals. That will bring

Expansion Of School On Board Agenda

A six-man committee, composed of parents and school board members, will discuss the expansion of Coleman School in San Rafael tonight, following the San Rafael Board of Education meeting.

The proposed splitting of Coleman School into upper and lower grade schools, with the upper grades attending a new school near the high school, met strong opposition last month. Another proposal is to try to purchase Dominican Convent property so the school can be expanded on its present site.

The Board of Education meeting is set for 7:30 p.m. at 215 Mission avenue. Items on the agenda include:

Appointments of nine teachers and resignations of four teachers.

Agreement with San Francisco State College to allow practice teachers from the college to train in San Rafael district.

Setting a salary for the combined position of head counselor and guidance project director. Hugh Patterson, present head counselor, will go into full time teaching. Since the guidance project director's job will not require full time, the two posts will be combined under one person. The pay for the job would run about $9,500 to $10,000.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market headed lower in quiet trading late this afternoon.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3,200,000 shares compared with 2,970,000 yesterday.

Leading stocks fell from fractions to about two points.

Reynolds Metals leaped about three points in its boost in output. Alcoa was up more than two and Kaiser Aluminum more than a point.

An early rebound from yesterday's setback, the sharps in half a year, faded into irregularity which turned gradually into a low-level market.

Taxes will remain at the present $1.39 per $100 of assessed valuation—the maximum allowable rate for the district—said Schneider.

Also contingent on the pending state bill is a proposed "ideal" teachers salary schedule, informally approved last night by the board. The schedule ranges from a starting salary of $5,000 to a maximum of $9,500 in 12 steps. The current schedule ranges from $4,400 to $7,400 in 10 steps.

Trustees indicated that their aim is to pay 90 per cent of the "ideal" scale next year, providing a range of $4,500 to $7,950.

Trustees approved a recommendation by Schneider that two new principals be hired at present salary rates: Ross Carter, now with the Westside Union School near Healdsburg, and Fred Newton, now with the Hawthorne School District.

They will become principals at Loma Verde and Pacheco Schools. Alfred Rivasslata, now principal of both Meadow Park and Loma Verde Schools, will become principal solely of Meadow Park. Duane V. Moeller, now principal of Pacheco, will become district business manager.

Agreement with San Francisco State College to allow practice teachers from the college to train in San Rafael district.

Setting a salary for the combined position of head counselor and guidance project director. Hugh Patterson, present head counselor, will go into full time teaching. Since the guidance project director's job will not require full time, the two posts will be combined under one person. The pay for the job would run about $9,500 to $10,000.

BORGHOLM, Sweden (UPI)—A Soviet officer and his Polish girl friend arrived here together last night and asked for political asylum, police reported today.

Police withheld names.

A-Ban Talks Stalled

GENEVA (UPI)—The Western powers maintained today that the Soviet Union still demands a built-in veto over the policing of any nuclear test ban.

U. S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth and British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore raised this point at an hour and 45-minute session of the Big Three nuclear conference.

The meeting failed to produce any clear narrowing of East-West differences, a Western source said.

BRITAIN'S 'FLYING SAUCER'

This is a diagram of Britain's secret "flying saucer" which made a successful first flight Sunday. The saucer, officially named the Hovercraft, is an oval disc of polished aluminum 30 feet long and 25 feet wide. It has been under trial on the Isle of Wight off England's south coast for several months. The Hovercraft weighs two tons and is capable of a speed of 40 miles an hour. It is designed to skim along a few feet above the water on a cushion of air forced downwards from the machine itself. Its designers believe models of the contraption could be used for various types of commercial transportation. (AP Wirephoto)

School Board To Meet In Secret On Salaries

Larkspur School District trustees agreed last night to hold a secret session on salaries for administrative, clerical and custodial personnel at 4 p.m. Saturday at Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

After the "executive session," it will reconvene in open session and announce its decisions, announced Supt. Carl Tivel. The board agreed to the procedure at its regular meeting last night, the superintendent said.

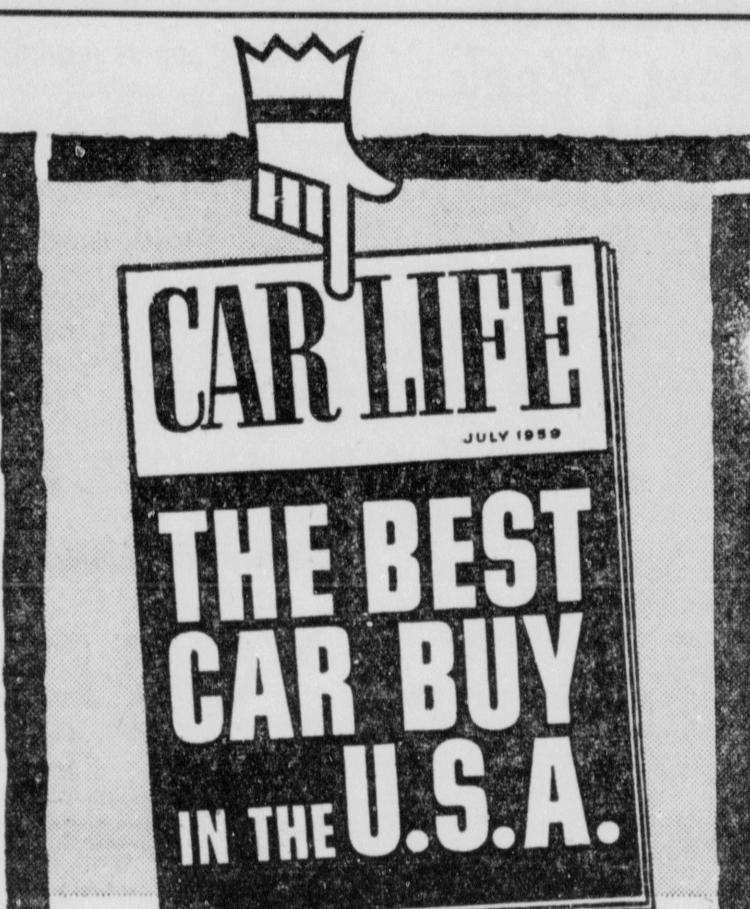

Review of salaries is not one of the matters for which the Brown Act, California's anti-secrecy law, permits secret meetings. The Brown Act provides all meetings of governing board of public agencies (which includes school board) shall be public except "to consider the employment or dismissal of a public officer or employee or to hear complaints or charges brought against such officer or employee."

Last night's meeting of the Larkspur board produced no major change in the preliminary 1959-60 budget proposed last month by Superintendent Tivel. The suggested total of $591,715 is $28,781 less than the current budget.

The board voted to raise cafeteria lunch prices next year from 25 to 30 cents for pupils and 30 to 40 cents for teachers. The cafeteria will continue to operate at a deficit with the higher rates, Tivel said, but will come closer to being a self-sustaining operation.

In other matters last night the Larkspur school board:

RAMBLERHERE'S WHY:

"Rambler is a well-made, efficiently designed, comfortable car with outstanding structural strength and rigidity, smooth, quiet economical operation, outstanding maneuverability in traffic and parking, satisfactory roadability, ride and handling, competitive performance, good operating economy and very significantly low ownership costs—in short, it's our choice for overall best buy among U.S. cars."

COST

"First of all, it has a lower initial price, and on the basis of current figures will retain a greater percentage of its original cost than any other car anywhere near its price."

STYLING

"The Rambler has developed in just three years into one of the most attractive cars on the road."

BODY DESIGN AND CONSTRUCTION

"Most evident is the solidity of the unit-construction body. On the road there is never a trace of annoying body shake or vibration. Rambler's unit-construction body gives a solid, quiet, vibrationless feeling normally associated with the largest, heaviest and most expensive cars. A hidden plus . . . the entire unit, body and frame structure is dipped in a tank of rust-proofing chromate primer, a virtual guarantee against the rusting out of inaccessible panel surfaces."

INTERIOR

"Rambler is an extremely comfortable car for all six passengers because the centers of both front and rear seats are not crammed down close to the transmission housing and driveshaft tunnel."

HANDLING AND ROADABILITY

"Rambler proves amazingly responsive and maneuverable at moderate speeds."

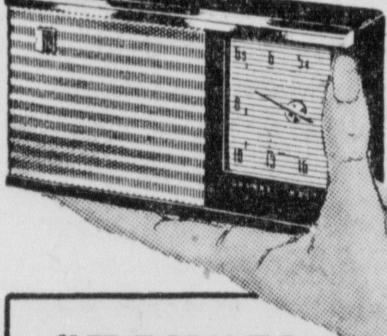

QUALITY

"Rambler gets high marks in quality of manufacture."

Your Rambler dealer will be glad to give you a reprint of the complete article.

Writer Begs Daughter To Come Home

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A mystery writer issued an emotion-packed appeal today for his missing daughter to return home.

Kenneth Millar came here from Sacramento last night after hearing his daughter, Linda, 19, cashed a check at a market last Friday. She vanished nine days ago while visiting a casino at Lake Tahoe with two married men, who were questioned by police and released.

"I cried with joy and relief when I learned you were alive," Millar said in a statement. "You're the person we love most. Did you ever doubt it?"

"You're afraid; you must be afraid, or you'd have come home long since. Believe me, there's nothing to be afraid of."

The girl, a student at the Davis campus of the University of California, is described as in "an acutely disturbed state." Dr. Daniel J. Sullivan of Sacramento said she was his patient four times in two weeks before she vanished.

Millar said the girl may have snapped under the strain of studies. She has been haunted with a feeling of guilt since a car she was driving hit and killed a Santa Barbara youth three years ago, he said.

The family lives in Santa Barbara. The mother, Margaret, also is a mystery writer.

Los Angeles police say Miss Millar cashed a $10 check at a Hollywood market, using her student identification card and driver's license as identification. The clerk said she appeared dazed.

WALT ERICSON NEW PREXY

SRHS Votes Student Court, Code Of Ethics

After one of the liveliest election campaigns of recent years, San Rafael High students Friday chose student body officers for the 1959-60 school year.

Walt Ericson was elected student body president for the coming fall term. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Ericson, 49 Reservoir Road, San Rafael.

Assisting Walton on the student council will be the following officers:

Tom Schulz, boys' vice president; Jo Ann Segale, girls' vice president; Gwen Park, secretary; Jackie Fowler, treasurer; Louise McFarlane, activity point secretary; Barbara Simon-tacchi, yell leader; Travis Key, commissioner of assemblies; Rosemary Barkhurst, commissioner of social affairs; Dave Chuchu and Janet Pemble, councilmen.

Also approved by the voters was provision for a Student Court, which will be put into operation next year. This will give students the power to try, judge and punish certain infractions of student body rules.

On the same ballot a Student Code of Ethics was accepted by the student body.

The new student body officers will take over the functions of student government at an assembly on the closing day of school. Fred Costello, the retiring president, will administer the oath of office to Walt Ericson, who will then swear in the other new members of the student council. Each old officer will then turn over his office to the newly-elected officials.

Of the 107 students competing, there was one tie for first place. Judy Jacobsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jacobson of Mill Valley, and John Meacham, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Meacham of Mill Valley, split top honors in the elementary algebra field. Russell Boates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Boates of Mill Valley, came in second, and Phoebe Call, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hughes Call of Mill Valley, third.

James Weil took top honors in the plane geometry division. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Weil of Mill Valley. Martin Stoye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Stoye of Mill Valley, and Alan Stangenberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Stangenberger of Mill Valley, came in second and third, respectively.

First place winner in the advanced algebra category was a junior, Ray Grinsell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Grinsell of Sausalito. Foreign exchange student from Iran, Houshang Dezfullan, came in second. Houshang lives with Dr. and Mrs. Stubblebine of Mill Valley. Third place winner was David McClintock, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. McClintock, Jr., of Mill Valley.

Tam Paper Elects Staff

The Tamalpais News has chosen its next year's staff. Editor is Don Canavan, a junior. Other editors include:

Lois Grimstead, news editor; Frances Oman, feature editor; Rich Nielsen, sports editor; and Dorothy Bono, art editor. Two new positions have been inaugurated, outside publicity manager and production manager. Rachel Dehl and Bill Shrappes are the new managers respectively.

At its amended form, the bill establishes a seven-member commission to study Bay Area transportation problems.

All three bills were sent to the Assembly Ways and Means Committee. They have all already been passed by the Senate.

A journalism trophy was given to Joel Rubey, past editor.

Committee Passes 3 S.F. Bay Bills

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Legislation permitting the use of tolls from the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge to build other bay crossings has been approved by the Assembly Transportation Committee.

Approval of the plan, by Sen. Richard Dolwig (R-Redwood City), came yesterday after the committee amended the bill to prohibit a bridge parallel to the present San Francisco-Oakland span.

The committee also approved a bill by Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) authorizing the use of 115 million dollars to build a rapid transit tube between San Francisco and Oakland.

Also approved by the committee was what was left of McCarthy's Golden Gate Authority bill which originally had sought to consolidate all Bay Area transportation facilities under uniform management.

In its amended form, the bill establishes a seven-member commission to study Bay Area transportation problems.

All three bills were sent to the Assembly Ways and Means Committee. They have all already been passed by the Senate.

Joan Marzell Wins Awards In 4-H And Church Work

Joan Marzell, a Novato High School senior, has been named winner of two awards. One is an alternate 4-H Standard Oil Company Scholar and the other an Archbishop's Youth Award.

Ten Northern California 4-H members were chosen, five as winners of $200 scholarships, and the remaining five as alternates. Joan was chosen as the first alternate, which entitles her to receive an award if one of the first five is disqualified. The scholarships are given in California, Arizona, New Mexico, and the territories.

The awards are received on a basis of 4H records. The scholarships can be used at any college.

On Sunday she was presented with the Archbishop's Youth Award for two years of service to the Catholic Youth work. Joan was one of nine Organization, and for parish chosen out of 13 Bay Area counties. She has been president of the Novato CYO for two years.

Joan, who is 18, lives at 1459 Indian Valley Road with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Marzell, and sister Kathy, 10.

'We're In Business Now,' Says Pilot Of Space Ship X15

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (UPI) — "We're in business now. We know we can take 'em up and bring 'em back in one piece."

Scott Crossfield speaking — the quiet-spoken test pilot who piloted the X-15 rocket plane on its first solo flight yesterday.

The needle-nosed dart glided from a B-52 mother plane to a deft landing on a sun-baked dry lake near this desert test center.

Next step: probably a captive flight, with fuel aboard, beneath the bomber's wing. There was no fuel aboard the 50-foot-long plane yesterday.

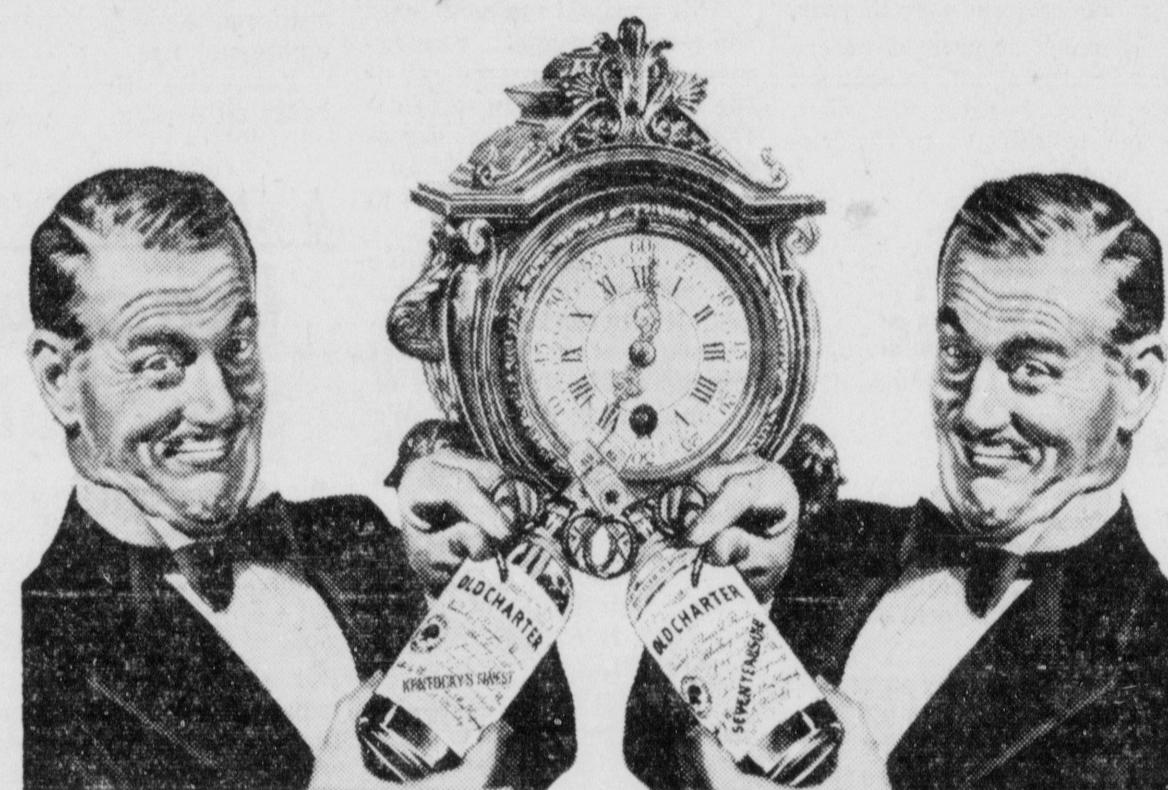

When the bomber pilot asked Crossfield if he was all set to be cut loose from under the B-52's wing, the 37-year-old test pilot answered:

"I'm ready when you are buddy."

The X-15 dropped free from the bomber at 517 m.p.h. Crossfield held the ship level and cut air speed. Then he dove

Even Youths Gamble And No One Seems Concerned

One day last week an item appeared on this page under the heading "10 Years Ago." It said:

"Dist. Atty. A. E. Bagshaw declared that gambling would not be tolerated in Marin County whether or not charitable or religious organizations are involved."

It was a strange coincidence that it appeared the same day a San Francisco paper carried huge headlines telling about a Bay Area woman winning $140,000 in the Irish Sweepstakes. The paper had for days been running lists of winning numbers in the big overseas gamble.

We were further impressed because a couple of Marin County boys had been "lucky," too. All the kids in high school were talking about it—how these two youths had bought just one $3 ticket and won $268 or some such sum. "They'd never bought a ticket before either," one boy tells another.

It made us wonder if they have special awards for juveniles; perhaps they would consider an Irish Sweepstakes (j.g.).

THE POWER OF THE WRITER

Emerson once said: "Talent alone cannot make a writer. There must be a man behind the book."

Words convey thoughts that are good, bad or indifferent in the same proportion as the individual who writes them is constructive, destructive or neutral.

In today's world, one writer may shape the thought of hundreds, thousands, even millions. Behind every newspaper article, broadcast, motion picture, pamphlet, magazine article and book, there's one individual.

The songs that millions sing, the textbooks that shape the minds of innumerable students, the publications that trade unionists

Gov. Edmund G. Brown is proclaiming violent opposition to the use of a state lottery to help balance the state's budget. In fact the governor has come out solidly against any form of gambling, warning he won't sign bills extending horse racing, which is legal in our state.

We're with the governor in his gambling stand. Yet we can't understand why the illegal lottery from overseas is allowed to flourish so openly that even the teen-agers can, and do, gamble on it.

It's as hard to understand why San Rafael's new police chief not only permitted a charitable lottery recently, but actually participated by drawing the lucky number.

Gambling is illegal in California, except for parimutuel betting on horse racing and draw poker. As we've said many times, if that's the law, let's enforce it. If we don't want it to be the law, let's change the law.

We think it is bad for police officers to be put in a position where they have to decide between a good kind of gambling and a bad kind. That's something the law is supposed to decide. Peace officers are only supposed to enforce the law.

It made us wonder if they have special awards for juveniles; perhaps they would consider an Irish Sweepstakes (j.g.).

How important then that every writer be endowed with high ideals and a sense of responsibility as well as needed competence.

You can render a service to God and your fellowman by encouraging some talented young person to dedicate his life to a writing career.

"The word of God is living and effective, and more piercing than any two-edged sword." (Hebrew 4:12)

Inspire more who are both talented and conscientious, O Holy Spirit, to take up a career in the writing field.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

D.C. Should Have Self Government

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Each of us, at some time, visits with pride our national capital. Washington, D.C., is a city of beautiful buildings, middle class homes and appealing slums. It has all the community problems of any other United States city, but it has the largest city council in the world, 534 members of Congress.

The residents of Washington, D.C., pay 88 per cent of the operating and maintenance expenses of the whole city, while 53 per cent of the district's land area is tax exempt.

The amount of the federal government's contribution varies from year to year.

There is at present before the Senate a bill, introduced by Senator Bible (S. 659), which would give to the District of Columbia a territorial form of government.

There would be a Legislative Assembly of 15 elected members, with final control still in the hands of Congress.

There would be a governor, appointed by the President, with veto power by both the governor and the President.

This proposal seems to meet the constitutional requirements for the government of the district, while, to some extent, expressing the democratic ideal of local self government, which is basic to United States policies.

The chances of the Bible bill passing the Senate are good. It is in the House of Representatives that bills for local government in the District of Columbia have difficulty. We should all watch with interest the progress of this bill in Congress.

BRIGHT, NEW RED WORLD

Americans Apathetic To Deadly Menace

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The shocking story of Communist spying in the United States rambles on. It arouses less public interest than last year's fashions in Women's skirts.

Why it is that the American people are so complacently fat-headed about deadly menace of Communism to the American way of life is a baffling question. The warnings have been loud and they have been sounding for a long time.

Back there in 1930, one Dimitri Z. Manuilsky spoke in Moscow before the Lenin School of Political Warfare. Among other things, Comrade Manuilsky said:

"WAR TO THE HILT" between Communism and Capitalism is inevitable. Today (1930), of course, we are not strong enough to attack. Our time will come in 20 or 30 years (1950 to 1960). To win, we shall need the element of surprise. The Bourgeois (that's us) will have to be put to sleep.

"So, we shall begin by launching the most spectacular peace movement on record. There will be electrifying overtures and unheard-of concessions. The capitalistic countries, stupid and decadent, will rejoice to cooperate in their own destruction. They will leap at another chance to be friends. As soon as their guard is down, we shall smash them with our clenched fists."

COMMUNISM'S PEACE movement has been underway now for some time. Sham and phony though it be, Communist propaganda for peace and co-existence is firmly imbedded in the free world's headlines.

Nikita Khrushchev occasionally blurts something off key such as his crack, "We will bury you," or his promise that the current crop of U.S. grandchildren will become socialists.

Despite peaceful talk, Communist activities, espionage, infiltration of U. S. institutions is booming today as rarely before.

Director J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI regularly warns his fellow citizens of their danger, but there is little evidence that they heed his words. Hoover's warning this month was that the Communists were stepping up their efforts to recruit young people and workers in vital industries.

A Justice Department official estimated that in a rather recent 18-month period, the FBI referred 481 espionage cases to the department. That is near an average rate of one-a-day.

American citizens seem not to be aware of or to care little about Communism's determined plans for a bright, new red world.

It is very true that I broke my ankle on Mt. Tamalpais as reported in the Independent-Journal on May 25.

It is also true that the Rangers and the Air Force Cadets rescued me in truly heroic fashion.

It is not true, however, that I was "picking wild flowers." As any Californian should know, this is against the law.

There were Mariposa lilies, bush poppies, wild iris and other lovely wild flowers on Mt. Tamalpais that day, but I left them for others to enjoy and only carried off a bouquet of a broken ankle.

I'm concerned mainly with the possibility that some of your readers may have been led to believe that Mt. Tam's flowers are "pickable."

MANEUVERING GOES ON

Democratic Candidates Start Pulling Strings

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON — Wisconsin Democrats have put a slight crimp in the presidential nomination plans of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D, Mass.). But the Oregon legislature may have handed him a more-than-compensating advantage.

In Wisconsin, the administrative committee of the state Democratic party May 24 blocked a Kennedy-backed move to put the presidential primary on a winner-take-all basis. Prospects are that most delegates to the 1960 convention will be chosen by district, as backers of Kennedy's rival, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D, Minn.), seem to prefer.

IN OREGON, Gov. Mark Hatfield (R) on May 5 approved a change in the state presidential primary law that virtually guarantees Kennedy a chance to test his strength against Humphrey, Sen. Stuart Symington (D, Mo.) and perhaps other Democratic hopefuls.

The primaries in Wisconsin next April 5 and Oregon next May 20 are important to Kennedy's effort to prove that he is the popular choice for the nomination.

Confident of their basic strength in Wisconsin, his backers there hoped to change the primary law to enable Kennedy to win a decisive victory over Humphrey in the Minnesota Senator's own backyard.

A study committee appointed by state Democratic chairman Patrick J. Lucey and headed by Sheboygan labor lawyer David Rabinovitz, both friendly to Kennedy, recommended introduction of a direct, statewide preference poll among the presidential candidates. The high man in that poll would get all Wisconsin's convention votes.

Stevenson's closest advisers, however, told Congressional Quarterly they were sure he would file the affidavit to have his name removed.

ALTHOUGH KENNEDY backers apparently played no major role in having the new primary law approved, Oregon Democratic leaders believe it may help the Massachusetts Senator.

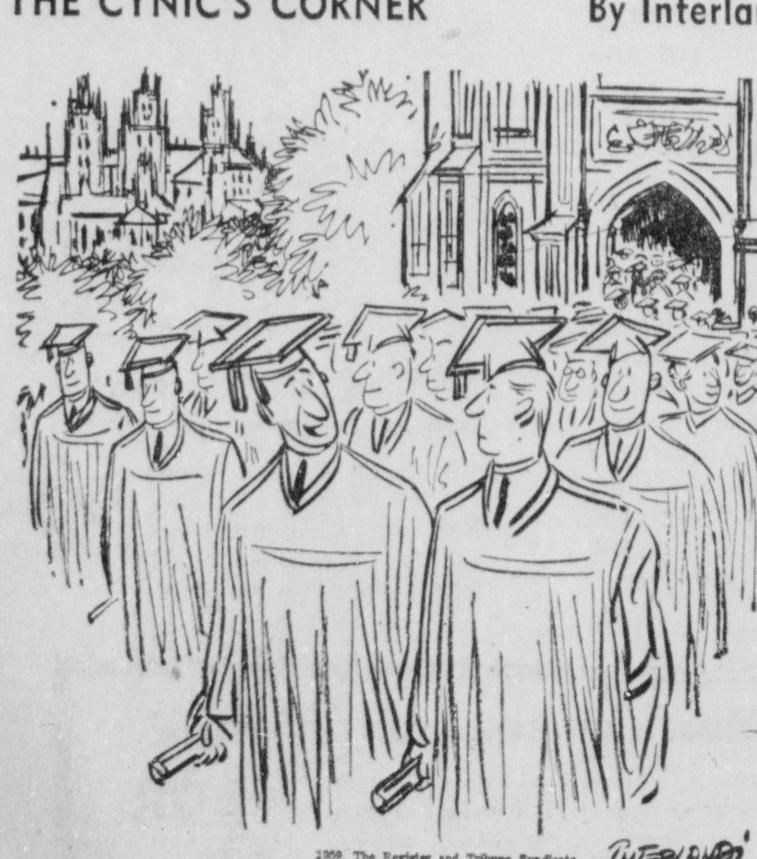

They say he rates right behind Stevenson in Oregon popularity polls. The large field would also weaken the effect of any tendency to oppose Kennedy on ground of his Catholicism, these leaders say.

The latter point may be of some significance. Oregon had a flourishing Ku Klux Klan movement in the 1920's and,

Democratic leaders say, the state has never elected a Catholic to major office.

Fairfax Council Doesn't Want Myers To Quit

Wallace S. Myers, Fairfax city attorney for almost 10 years, last night got an official reaction from the Fairfax City Council to a trial balloon he launched three weeks ago — his proffered resignation as city attorney.

His offer to resign was contained in a letter marked "secret and confidential" which was sent to each of the five councilmen, said Mayor Edward A. Smith.

"We certainly don't want you to leave," declared Mayor Smith. Councilman Rolfe M. Ockenden backed up the mayor.

"I'll be glad to help out as long as I can be useful," Myers replied.

He reported that he had looked over the transcript of court proceedings between the city and Max Friedman, who is suing for $300,000 damages because the city has not paved the entire width of the 55.7-foot-wide Center boulevard right of way.

Myers said he did not think the city was in too much jeopardy, but added, "I don't know if the city wants the expense of litigation." Myers receives a monthly salary of $175, plus extra pay for litigation.

Mayor Smith asked Councilman Ockenden, street commissioner, and Fire Chief Charles Thornton, who doubles as street superintendent, to recommend paving for Center boulevard in relation to other street construction that they think should be done in Fairfax this year.

"I think we will get around to paving this street but I don't think it should get special consideration," the mayor said.

Also pending against the city of Fairfax are two damage suits concerned with drainage.

Myers said last night that he gave no reason in his letter for wanting to resign. He said he was "just tired."

HEATED EXCHANGE

At last month's council meeting he got surprised reactions from several councilmen when he outlined a three-part definition of what constitutes a street which the city is obligated to maintain. In a heated discussion with Councilman William Hughes that night, Myers snapped, "Why don't you get a new city attorney?"

In other business last night, the Fairfax City Council:

1. Decided to advertise a council session on July 13 when the council will sit as a board of equalization on the 1959-60 city tax rates. City Clerk Alice Leoncio said in fiscal year that Fairfax would assess at 33 per cent of the county's appraisal of both the secured (real property) and unsecured (personal property) tax rolls. Fairfax did not use the county's unsecured tax roll this year.

2. Adopted a zoning ordinance amending permitting medical, dental and other professional offices in apartment zones. A permit must be obtained from the city planning commission.

3. Adopted an ordinance to annex a 349-foot strip along Sir Francis Drake boulevard next to Westbrae subdivision. The irregularly shaped property is 100 feet wide at its widest point.

4. Directed the city planning commission to hold a public hearing on an application to build a duplex submitted by Philip S. Bundschu of 421 of Alameda, San Anselmo. The commission had denied a use permit. Bundschu wants to build the duplex on two lots combined for a total area of 9,278 square feet opposite 25 Mountain View road. Commission Chairman W. E. Radtke said he would try to schedule the hearing on June 25.

5. Voted to accept streets in Westbrae subdivision, but retained $500 bond until the sidewalks are completed.

6. Voted to spend $165 a month for janitorial service provided by Universal Building Maintenance Co. of Fairfax, which submitted an identical bid in March as a San Rafael janitorial service. Addition of the janitorial service to be on a three-month trial basis beginning July 1, will allow the city's park maintenance man to devote all his time to park work.

Giants Blow Big Lead, Lose 12-9 On 11th-Inning Homer

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants, who would just as soon forget the night of June 8, send out Johnny Antonelli tonight to pitch against Pittsburgh's Vern Law.

The Californians twice blew the first game of a series to the Pirates Monday night, losing 12-9 in 11 hectic innings.

Antonelli has a 7-3 record and is 0-1 against the Bucs.

Law has a 5-3 mark but failed to finish his only start against the Giants, a game the Pirates won 6-5 in 12 innings May 12.

Lossing the series opener here dropped the second place Giants three games behind the Milwaukee Braves who beat Chicago 9-5. Pittsburgh, Los Angeles and Chicago are now all five games back of the leaders.

Jimmy Davenport started off with a walk and Felipe Alou followed with a homer and everything looked rosy for the Giants but four hours and 13 minutes after that first pitch it was pretty sad.

In the eighth, the Giants saw a 9-4 lead evaporate. Dom Zanni, the third pitcher, started the frame and was relieved by Al Worthington after three straight singles.

Worthington struck out Dick Schofield and got Bill Virdon to tap a double play ball toward shortstop Andre Rodgers. The ball slipped between Rodgers' legs and the second run of the inning scored. A sacrifice fly brought in the third. Dick Stuart clobbered his eighth homer clear out of the park for the fourth and fifth runs and it was a new ball game.

Roy Face, fifth Pirate pitcher, gave up a one-out single to Bob Schmidt in the ninth and Manager Bill Rigney sent in Bob Speake to run.

Willie Mays, who had come in as a pinch hitter in the eighth, got his second single, but Speake fell down rounding second and was tagged out.

Speake, for the second time this season, is on his way back to the Giant's Pacific Coast League Club in Phoenix. The return to the minors was made known, however, before the game started.

Mike McCormick relieved Worthington with two out in the eighth and didn't allow a run until the 11th when Bill Mazerroski singled, Dick Groat walked and pinch-hitter Harry Bright hit his second homer of the season.

Thirty-five players, 18 Giants, saw action. Each team got 18 hits, left 11.

San Francisco collected two runs in the fourth when Willie Kirkland homered, Daryl Spencer and Jackie Brandt singled. Andre Rodgers walked and Davenport doubled.

Spencer legged it across on a wild pitch.

Alou singled in the seventh, stole second, took third on a passed ball and scored on Orlando Cepeda's single. Spencer tripled in Cepeda.

The last three Giants runs were in the eighth when Rodgers singled, Bob Schmidt bunted safely, Mays singled and Davenport doubled.

It's part of the national pastime to boo the umpires—the Men in Blue as National League Headquarters refers to them—and they take the boozing good naturally in most instances. Not, however, when they feel there is a chronic complainer stirring the crowd.

Al Barlick, the senior umpire in the Delmore-Crawford-Jackson team, was the arbiter on first base when Bailey and Delmore had their set-to. Barlick came in from first base and finally got the Bailey-Delmore hassle quieted—with Bailey, of course, out of the game.

Members of the Giant Boosters Club remember this umpiring team. They were guests at the club's Friday luncheon a couple of weeks ago in San Francisco.

NOT MONSTERS
It was discovered at the luncheon that umpires are human, not monsters, after all—and humans with a keen sense of humor in addition to being pretty fair students of human nature.

Umpires Human But Always Win

I-J Correspondent

PITTSBURGH — Sooner or later all ball players learn that arguing with an umpire after he makes his official decision not only is frustrating but futile.

The other day in Cincinnati, before the Giants moved on to Pittsburgh for their current series with the Pirates, Ed Bailey joined the ranks of more than a score of players who have gotten the thumb treatment with only one-third of the season gone.

Bailey, the Redleg catcher, is a seasoned enough hand to know he couldn't win the argument he started with Vic Delmore who was calling balls and strikes that day. Nevertheless, he persisted in trying.

DISPUTED CALL

He vehemently disputed Delmore's call of a ball on the second pitch to Daryl Spencer in the sixth inning when the Giants were leading 9-3 and for all practical purposes had already wrapped up the game they ultimately won 13-3.

Possibly Bailey was tired, it being a warm Saturday afternoon with the temperature in the high 80s, and he wanted to take a shower. But that implies Bailey is a quitter which he definitely isn't. He actually was angry with himself and with Delmore for what happened in the preceding inning.

In the bottom half of the fifth, with two Redlegs on, Bailey looked at a third strike on a 3-2 pitch by Sam Jones for the final out that left his teammates stranded. Any batter knows that he must protect the plate if the ball is anywhere near the strike zone with the full count on him. And it almost is unforgivable to take a third strike in such a situation.

UMP BOOED

Bailey gave Delmore quite a prolonged argument on that called third strike. Naturally the 18,139 Cincinnati fans in the stands, half of them free

"Knothole Day" youngsters, roundly booted Delmore. However, Delmore sensed how Bailey felt and let him blow off steam. But not when he carried the argument into the next inning when Spencer was at bat.

Pity Poor Catchers For Hoyt Wilhelm!

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pudgy Hoyt Wilhelm will tell you today that pitching is a matter of catching.

Wilhelm, cast off by the Giants, Cardinals and Indians, at 35 is little less than sensational with nine straight wins for the Baltimore Orioles. He can credit it all to his knuckle ball.

And to a pair of unsung catchers named Gus Triandos and Joe Ginsberg.

The knuckle ball is the bane of the catching fraternity. Fractured digits are an occupational hazard. But the knuckler demands sacrifice above and beyond the call of duty. It dips and it darts in unpredictable fashion, breaking, in no particular order, up, down, in, out and fingers.

HAZARDOUS DUTY

There are numerous catchers who adamantly refuse to call for it, or handle it, because of the hazards involved while "boxing" the flutterball. Wilhelm throws four different knucklers and when you consider that these are his bread and butter pitches 80 per cent of the time, you can understand that a reluctant receiver would render him somewhat less than effective.

"Look over the records and you'll see that no one ever hit him good when he had a catcher who could handle him," says Manager Paul Richards.

That was the case when the quiet Carolinian broke in with

Don't Criticize Andre Rodgers; He May Be Doing His Very Best

They still argue "habit is a terrible thing," to quote the sword swallower's bride when the silverware disappeared.

And I hope a lot of folks won't mind me being a little soft when it comes to condemning Andre Rodgers, the Giants' rookie shortstop. He drives a guy nuts the way he stands up there and takes strike after strike. He strikes out so often the boys wonder if there isn't something wrong with his peepers.

Some of the critics infer, in between lines, that Andre doesn't yet know where "the strike zone is."

It's not for the likes of me, or anyone else to put the finger on Andre. How can anyone tell when a ball player is doing his best?

Written indelibly in my mind is the sad experience of Joe Waterman, once a matchmaker for fighters, and later a referee.

One night while in the Philippines, Waterman was selected to referee a fight between two Filipino boys. It doesn't matter what weight they were or who they were.

IN THE center of the ring before the gong sounded for the first round Waterman explained to the boys he had heard rumors of a fixed fight.

"I'm leary," Waterman told the boys, "that you two guys will put on a stinkeroo fight tonight. So I'm insisting you both get out there and fight like hell."

Midway through the 10-round one of the boys took a light poke on the nose and a short left jab under the heart. He fell to the canvas and seemed to settle there.

"One-two," said Referee Waterman, and on the downswing of his two count he mutated into the fallen fighter's ear, "Get up or no money for you."

"Three-four," Waterman's voice rang out, as he whispered,

Klaus Fuchs, Spy Who Betrayed Atomic Secrets, Will Soon Be Free

By PATRICK MASSEY
LONDON (AP)—In a few more weeks the gates of prison will probably swing open for the man they call the deadliest spy in history.

Klaus Fuchs will be free after serving nine years for betraying Western atomic secrets to the Soviet Union—secrets that probably enabled the Soviets to produce an atomic bomb five years sooner than they could have otherwise.

Home Secretary Richard A. Butler probably will tell the House of Commons this week what happens next to the German-born scientist.

As a docile, model convict, Fuchs, 47, is believed to have earned the maximum remission of one-third of the 14-year sentence passed on him at London's Old Bailey in March 1950. This would make him due for release early next month.

He could be deported. Although Fuchs acquired British citizenship in 1942, he lost it after being sentenced.

But demands have been raised in press and Parliament that Fuchs should be prevented from going to live in the Communist East for fear he may pass over more secrets or use his scientific learning to the Reds' advantage.

For seven years Fuchs worked with British nuclear scientists. Part of that time he was on the British team that worked with American nuclear scientists during World War II.

American and British scientists generally agree that the knowledge he acquired during that time would probably be of little use to the Soviets after all these years.

But fears have been expressed that his brilliant brain still could be put to service in Communist laboratories. It also has been argued that Fuchs' presence behind the Iron Curtain could prove a powerful propaganda filip for the Soviet bloc.

Reports seeping out of Wakefield Jail in northern England say Fuchs has expressed a desire to live in East Germany with his father, Prof. Emil Fuchs, 85, of Leipzig University.

If he really wants to go, there is some doubt that British authorities could prevent him.

Other reports say Fuchs has shed his Communist convictions and wants to work again for British science. But it is certain the British would never against trust him with even the smallest secrets.

In Leipzig, professor Fuchs declined to comment on his son's plans. The father was honored last month with the East German Order of the Fatherland on his 85th birthday.

In response to a direct question from his lawyer Monday, Liberace denied that he was a homosexual. The newspaper and Connor contend that the columnist's criticism of the American entertainer contained no such suggestion.

Once again the pianist drew a packed house, mostly women, to the court. Dozens of standees lined the walls and scores milled around in the hall.

Spotting a matron in the front stalls with a pair of opera glasses trained on him, Liberace leaned forward and asked: "How do I look, dear?"

"Lovely," she sighed.

The audience, composed mainly of middle-aged matrons, roared with delight.

France To Ban U.S. Atom Bombs

LONDON (AP)—France's reported decision to bar U.S. stockpiles of atomic bombs from French soil created a storm today in the Atlantic Congress, approaching the climax of its six-day London meeting.

Reaction inside delegations to the congress was split.

The Atlantic Congress is an unofficial assembly of some 650 leading citizens from the North Atlantic Alliance countries.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), a member of the 130-member U.S. delegation, said the French decision called for delicate negotiations with the British and the French.

Sicilian Election Tally Indecisive

PALERMO, Sicily (AP)—Indecisive results from Sicily's regional assembly elections touched off a scramble today for alliances by Italy's rival political parties.

Once again the balance of power appeared to rest with Silvio Milazzo, rich Sicilian landowner who broke with Italian Premier Antonio Segni's Christian Democrat party last year and took over the autonomous Sicilian government with the backing of the Red left and Fascist right.

In the voting Sunday, Milazzo's Christian Social Union won only 9 of the 90 Assembly seats. But with none of the big parties getting a majority, those nine were the key.

If he really wants to go, there is some doubt that British authorities could prevent him.

Other reports say Fuchs has shed his Communist convictions and wants to work again for British science. But it is certain the British would never against trust him with even the smallest secrets.

Nicaragua Army Chief Claims Rout Of Rebels

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—he claimed marked a decisive turn in the revolt. Neighboring Honduras reported, however, that civil resistance to the Somoza regime was increasing.

Agustin Torres Lazo, first secretary of the Nicaraguan Embassy in Washington, resigned yesterday and aligned himself with the anti-Somoza faction led from Costa Rica by Dr. Enrique Lacayo Farfan.

General Somoza gave no figures on casualties—either for the rebels or the National Guard—in the two-hour battle on a rain-drenched hill known as Cerro de la Guna about 120 miles northeast of Managua.

But he said, "I consider militarily these people (the rebels) are liquidated." He reported the rebel force, which came by plane from neighboring Costa Rica now numbered about 75 men. Many were believed to be sons of prominent Nicaraguan families.

The battle ended after two hours of fighting when the invaders ceased fire, apparently because too small.

Somoza said the rebel position would be blanketed with air-dropped leaflets today demanding unconditional surrender.

The military chief said the second plane load of rebels, which landed in the Santo Tomas area, had disintegrated into groups of two and three.

"For all practical purposes the invaders in that area are no longer a menace," he declared.

The hermit crab lives in another creature's shell and moves each time the quarters become too small.

Harry A. Mohlers Home After Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Mohlers have returned from extensive trip to the Orient. Their homeward flight from Tokyo was by way of Anchorage, Alaska.

The Mohlers are the new owners of one of Sausalito's most interesting old properties. Located on Atwood avenue, the house has the distinction of being a 19th Century "prefab," its parts having been brought around the Horn in 1852. It is listed in a San Francisco Social Register of 1892 as "Owl Ridge," the summer home of David P. Belknap.

Its more recent owners were the Edward Worcesters who did considerable remodeling and have now moved to Atlanta, Georgia. The Mohlers have no immediate plans regarding their purchase.

A tinkling fountain will be in the entry of the Outdoor Art Club and fish nets and flowers will decorate the main room. A "little grass shack" will also be part of the decor. Hawaiian attire is in order for the evening. A menu of sweet and sour pork, fried rice and Polynesian fruit salad will also be in keeping with the theme.

Annual Ballet Aquacade Draws Largest Audience In Its History

The largest audience ever to overflow the spacious grounds of the Roger Kent estate applauded the colorful 14th annual Ballet Aquacade last weekend, and a real ovation followed the announcement by the production director and choreographer, Mrs. Ralston W. Hodgson, that as long as she lives and is physically able there will always be a Ballet Aquacade.

Some chilly winds blowing down from Mt. Tamalpais Saturday afternoon made visitors from the city glad of their mink stoles and warm coats, but the weatherman had blessed the occasion with plenty of sunshine both days and the costumes created by Mrs. William Cuneo and by Mrs. Terres Ronneberg sparked against the green foliage of the extensive gardens and in the pool.

Tremendous enthusiasm met the elaborate opening number, "Golden Moment With Johann Strauss," which featured talented Shirley Bruamier and the thoroughly professional ballerina, Patti Vest. Seventy-five girls participated in this number which was coached by Mrs. Hodgson and her assistant ballerina, Mrs. Robert L. Alvarado.

Another favorite enthusiastically applauded was "Lida Rose," a catchy swim number coached by Mrs. T. Bland Rogers and Mrs. John Barrie Jr., who is chairman of the Ross-Kentfield-Greenbrae Unit of Marin Junior Theater sponsoring the event.

NEW STAR

Spirited applause greeted the patriotic finale, "A Tribute to Our New Star," with Linda Foster taking the part of Miss Alaska and Pat Gidley the coming of a hula at the very end to predict that Hawaii will have a place in the 15th annual Ballet Aquacade next year.

Most spectacular of the numbers was "Fun With Neptune" in which King Neptune played by Barbara Morrell was entertained by the dancing and swimming of hundreds of his creatures including star fish, lobsters, turtles, an amusing fiddler crab danced by Jane Johnson, and three Oriental pearls, Pat Chapman, Sandy Hodgson, and Marian Pollard. These three in their shimmering white satin and pearl swim costumes were coached by Ann Curtis Cuneo and appeared on the scene in translucent white oyster shells created by Mrs. James L. Heyemann.

Mrs. Heyemann also created the giant octopus featured in this number and the unsung hero of the show was undoubtedly young Roy Frater, who was "the man inside" the big green body of the octopus. Charming Mrs. Robert W. Hod-varado.

Another favorite enthusiastically applauded was "Lida Rose," a catchy swim number coached by Mrs. Walter Cederly, Mrs. L. J. Dellwig, and Mrs. Charles Sayers.

Mr. Ames Pence, administrator of Marin General Hospital, received a check from chairman of the event, Mrs. Barrie. The donation will be used to pay for a new type electric orthopedic bed for the hospital.

bart introduced this and several other numbers at the microphone which she shared with the radio personality, Cliff Engle.

After the performance on Sunday many tired but happy swim coaches and other guests gathered at the Kent Woodlands home of swim director Mrs. Thomas E. Gilboy and Mr. Gilboy for a cocktail buffet.

CAMERA BUGS

Many cameras were in evidence at both performances. Mrs. Austin Lea was seen cranking away at a high placed movie camera. Dr. and Mrs. Lea had two daughters, Cindi and Lori, in the show. Dr. Arnold Nutting was taking movies during the Neptune number in which his blonde daughter danced a star fish part. Dr. Taylor Smith and Dr. I. N. Tucker were busy with cameras, too.

The Philip McCoys took turns attending Ballet Aquacade to see their daughter, Sarah, swim in a sprightly number called "You Gotta Have Rain," coached by Mrs. Walter Cederly, Mrs. L. J. Dellwig, and Mrs. Charles Sayers.

Mr. Ames Pence, administrator of Marin General Hospital, received a check from chairman of the event, Mrs. Barrie.

The annual reception to the new officers of Woodwardia Circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft, will be held tomorrow at 8:15 p.m., at the IOOF Temple.

Mrs. Della Cline, guardian, will be the presiding officer. Her committee for the evening is Mrs. Annie Curry, Mrs. Augusta Hinrichs, and Mesdames Frank J. Mattos and Athos Hinrichs.

Many Attend Guild Show

In the natural setting of the Ed Barbano's "Camp Lagunitas" in Forest Knolls, more than 100 persons enjoyed the poolside fashion tea and water ballet planned by the Women's Guild of the San Anselmo Community Presbyterian Church on Saturday.

Chic and lovely styles from Sally's Apparel in San Anselmo alternated with beautifully performed and costumed aquatic entertainment. The aquatic numbers were "Yours Only," "Gigi," "Around the World in 80 Days," and a solo performance by Miss Ellen Clark, "Hawaiian Interlude," which concluded the program. Swim suits, morning dresses, afternoon and late afternoon dresses were described by Dr. Samuel LeCount as fashion commentator.

Mrs. Ric Casci, resplendent in an authentic Gay Nineties swim ensemble, delighted the entire assemblage, and young girls' dresses of the '20's era were modeled by Margaret Prather and Kay Kolbe. Mrs. Samuel LeCount also surprised even the commentator when she appeared in evening gowns of the '20's.

Drs. and Mesdames Walter O. Ball, Arnold Come, John Elliott, Roger Hedlin, Brooks Pringle, Carroll Russell and Dr. Anne Brady, Judge and Mrs. Harry Newbarth, Miss Dorothy Noble and Mesdames Martha Bartlett, Frances Brodie, Barnetta Fine, Verne Franchini, E. R. Leypley, Joann Raddue, John Rakow, Iolean Rhoades, Joseph Sawaya, Elizabeth Weaver, Esther Whitman, Lorine Wood, Gladys Zumwalt, Opal Torrence, Ethyl Cobb-Souza, Ada Fusselman and Misses Kathleen Small, Clara Standring and Ray Gruber.

Business meeting will follow, after which there will be Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament in the Travis Catholic Chapel.

Many of the members of Our Lady Queen of Peace Sodality at the Travis Air Base have made retreats at Vallombrosa, the San Francisco Archdiocesan Retreat House at Menlo Park, during the past two years and then gone on to other bases to work for the Retreat Movement.

The Travis Catholic chapel was recently dedicated by Bishop Merlin J. Guilfoyle. Of special interest is a painting of our Blessed Mother, titled "Our Lady of Travis." It is the artistic work of the wife of one of the officers at the base. It hangs on a field of blue velvet to which are attached the wings of every member of the Catholic Flying Personnel attached to the Travis base.

Mrs. John Campion of San Rafael is a member of the board of directors of the Retreat Assn.

LARKSPUR PLANS FOR 100-BERTH BOAT HARBOR

Larkspur's ambitious project to develop 43 acres of city-owned marshland near the new Larkspur elementary school includes berthing for 100 boats. The city council last week asked City Manager Ronald E. Piper to seek a state loan to develop the boat harbor. Boats would enter the harbor by means of a dredged-out Arroyo Holon canal.

REA Backs Marin Tour Center Plan

Members of the Redwood Empire Assn. executive board, meeting at Ukiah Saturday, unanimously endorsed a Marin Visitors Bureau proposal for erection of a tourist information center at Vista Point just off the north end of Golden Gate Bridge.

The action came in response to a request from Chairman Walter R. Castro of the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

The tourist information bureau, he said, "will be very beneficial in attracting more tourists to our Redwood Empire Counties. . . . The main objective would be to encourage all the thousands of people who stop at Vista Point to extend their stay in the Bay Area so as to visit other parts of the Redwood Empire."

The REA established a study committee, headed by George G. Hoberg, Lake County resort owner, to determine what steps will be necessary to bring the tourist information center into being.

Publisher Plans Paper In San Jose

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—Publisher Sheldon F. Sackett says he plans to publish a new round-the-clock daily newspaper in San Jose as soon as "reasonably possible."

Without setting a specific time, the Coos Bay, Ore., publisher said he was moving into the San Jose field because that city has had no daily newspaper since last Feb. 14 when the San Jose Mercury and News shut down because of a stereotypers strike.

Sackett noted that the five-day-week paper put out by the San Jose Newspaper Guild was never intended to be permanent.

He said of "thousands" of Santa Clara County residents responding to a questionnaire, 92 per cent replied favorably toward a new newspaper.

Sackett said he would "offer to sign contracts with all struck unions taking over either (a) their present union contracts or agreeing (b) to accept the terms best and last offered to the owners of the struck papers and rejected by them."

Sharks An Increasing Menace To California Ocean Swimmers

SAN PEDRO (P)—Shark! A growing menace to California ocean swimmers.

Saw-tooth brutes cruising California coastal waters in recent years have killed two youths, gashed another and frightened scores of skindivers shoreward from La Jolla to Monterey Bay.

Shark danger is increasing because swimmers and skindivers are invading new underwater frontiers.

And swim fins, a face plate and perhaps an abalone iron are no weapons to match the pig-eyed man-eaters that range up to 30 feet in California waters.

Last month 18-year-old Albert Kogler swimming near San Francisco was attacked by what experts later decided was an 11-foot white shark. Horribly mangled, Kogler, son of Corte Madera Councilman Albert E. Kogler, died despite the valiant rescue attempt of Shirley O'Neill, a pretty coed swimming with him.

In December, 1952, Barry Wilson, 17, was struck repeatedly by a shark while swimming outside the breakers near Pt. Aulon at Pacific Grove. He died before a group of skindivers in the area could bring him ashore.

Three years later a few miles away in Monterey Bay, skindiver James Jacobs, 19, was attacked just after he had speared a small fish. He escaped with a severely gashed foot.

In each case, marine experts say, the villain was a vicious white shark of about the same size that killed young Kogler.

White sharks were so prevalent in La Jolla three years ago that skindivers were chased ashore for two weeks.

What's a white shark like?

A month after Jacobs was hit off Santa Cruz, two commercial fishermen in the area shot an 800-pound white shark that was feeding on a 25-foot basking shark they had just harpooned.

The 11-foot man-eater had been tearing at the basking shark with the speed of an underwater cannonball. His jagged row of one-and-one-fourth-inch triangular teeth had ripped off 25 pounds of flesh in five-pound chunks.

The white shark is the most dangerous but not the largest of the 25 species most commonly found in California waters. What should you, a swimmer, do if you meet a man-eater?

Keep your eye on him, says Jimmy Maag, an ex-professional abalone diver who now operates a fish processing plant at Newport Beach.

Then, says Maag, swim backward to shore or the nearest boat—but don't take your eye off the brute.

If the shark attacks, kick wildly. The threshing water may scare the shark off.

Yell for help, counsels Maag. And pray.

Legal Smog Limit To Be Set In State

SACRAMENTO (P)—California started out today to set a legal limit on smog.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown signed a bill ordering the Public Health Department to fix the point at which air pollution becomes dangerous.

The standard must be developed by next Feb. 1, in time for a special session of the Legislature to decide what to do if pollution exceeds the limit.

Brown said the limit, to be fixed after scientific tests and public hearings, will "provide a constitutionally valid basis for future control legislation."

The governor previously signed a bill requiring the Public Health Department to set maximum standards for motor vehicle exhaust fumes.

That would set up the possibility of legislation compelling repair, modification or parking of smoky cars.

Planners Scan

Freitas Tracts

Two big subdivisions, the first in San Rafael's newly annexed Freitas Ranch, are ready for construction this summer.

Eichler Homes, Inc. has submitted a tentative map for 170 homes, and Alameda Homes Corp. for 176 homes. Both maps will be up for inspection tonight by the San Rafael Planning Commission, which meets at 7:45 o'clock in the city hall.

Eichler Homes' new subdivision will be located in the valleys around a hill behind Hartzell School and the Cuneo Swim School.

John Kenny's Alameda Homes Unit 10 will be located just south of the Freitas Parkway ditch, around the old Freitas home which has been donated to the Catholic Church.

George S. Nolte, engineer for both projects, said the homes will start selling this summer, and construction should begin in a couple of months, if the planning commission gives the green light.

The homes are expected to sell for $21,000 to $25,000. Lots will range from 6,200 to 6,500 square feet. The homes will have two-car garages, and three or four bedrooms.

Other items on tonight's agenda include:

Union Oil Co. wants a put in a service station on the northeast corner of Third and Mary streets.

Goodman Boat Emporium wants to use open space for boat sales at 251 Third street (Montecito Shopping Center).

John R. Cowan Jr. wants a drive-in restaurant at 1845 Lincoln avenue.

Second public hearing will be held on rezoning the planned commercial and light industrial area in East San Rafael Assessment District to special apartment-residential.

Third public hearing is scheduled on Valate T. Eliason's request for rezoning from single family to garden apartments at 3 Jessup street.

Summer School: It Isn't Always The Best For Growing Youngster

Last year our summer schools were crowded. This year even more pupils will attend. Should your youngsters go to summer school?

I think most of our elementary school children need the summer to unwind. Boys need it especially. School is more of a strain on them than you realize. Unless there is a special reason, don't send them to summer school.

Some educators will scorn me for saying that. But I'm sure I'm right. Give your younger school children as much freedom as possible. Let them play with their gangs. Let them forget school and enjoy being children.

High school youngsters are different. They shouldn't be idle. If they're behind in any of their studies they should go to school, and make them up. If they're not behind at school, probably they should get summer jobs. If they can't find work, they should go to summer school.

They can take some of their regular courses, and get them out of the way. Or they can take music, art, literature or

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Ross Valley Chapter of De Molay, Masonic fraternal organization for boys 14 through 18, is being formed by the Fairfax lodge.

Lynn Barr, chairman of the organizing committee, said anyone interested in De Molay may attend the June 18 meeting, especially the 15 boys who have filed membership applications and those planning to do so. Parents of the boys also are invited, he said.

Novato School To Graduate Class Of 180

The students will be awarded diplomas by four trustees of the Novato Unified School District: Mrs. Paul Grimes, Peter J. Ferrarese, Earl Marshall and Leo Mindling.

The program will begin by the playing of J. Kinyon's "Creole Suite" by the Hill School band, directed by Gerald Ring. The Pledge of Allegiance will be led by student Randy Wood.

Graduates—the girls dressed in pastel street-length dresses, the boys in their Sunday best—will enter to the band's rendition of "Pomp and Circumstance."

After awarding diplomas, the girls' glee club, directed by Mrs. Watson Albers, will sing "You'll Never Walk Alone." A welcoming address by Principal Robert Patterson will follow.

Graduation addresses will be delivered by four students: Melinda Nall, "Education Is A Right, Privilege and Responsibility"; Linda Dimmick, "A Good Education Makes Good Americans"; Elaine Medeiros, "Education of Yesterday and Today," and Casey Schoof, "What Education Means to Me."

Also set for Wednesday's meeting is opening of bids for the district's seven-acre property in Woodacre, originally intended as a second school site.

Donald To Get Diploma In Solitary Splendor

Donald James Russell will be graduated in solitary splendor from the eighth grade of Point Reyes School. In fact, he is the eighth grade.

His diploma will be presented by Joseph Mendoza, clerk of the board of trustees, a duty which Mendoza performed two years ago when his own son was graduated from the eighth grade in similar solitary splendor.

If no new pupils arrive on the scene, Point Reyes School won't have another graduation for three years. That's when fifth graders Sharon Lobaugh, James Mendoza and Dennis Hyder are slated to receive their diplomas.

The other four pupils at Point Reyes School are third grader Wanda Hyder and first graders Janice Lobaugh, Jeanette McCormick and John Senn.

Sierra Tunnel Is Completed

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Completion of a huge tunnel eight miles long and 20 feet in diameter through solid granite in the heart of a mountain in the High Sierra was announced today.

The tunnel, one of the biggest ever dug in the west, will link southern California Edison Co.'s mammoth pool dam, now under construction, with a powerhouse designed to generate 126,000 kilowatts of electricity for southern and central California.

Located about 65 miles northeast of Fresno, the dam is slated for completion shortly after the first of the year. One of the highest earth-fill dams in the world, it may also be one of the last great hydroelectric projects in the west.

The project, constructed at a cost of $49,600,000, will be an important link in Edison's $200,000,000 Big Creek chain of reservoirs, dams and powerhouses in the High Sierra.

Completion of the giant tunnel marked the end of almost a year of digging, 24 hours a day six days a week.

Wyoming still has vast copper and silver deposits.

Novato Boy, 15, In Stolen Car, Hits House In Petaluma

A 15-year-old Novato boy stole a car from Brown's Used Car lot Saturday night, got as far as Petaluma and cracked it up against a house, Petaluma police reported.

Petaluma police officers said they noticed the boy speeding through town and gave chase. The youth lost control, hit a tree, and ricocheted the car against a house, breaking up a card party at the home.

The car received about $600 damages, and the house will need considerable repair, police said. The boy was booked at Sonoma County Juvenile Hall.
